I'm trying to make a bootable USB using Rufus and dd, it works but I had some issues: When I boot the computer with the USB plugged in, it boots from the drive. When I remove the drive, it's not booting. I discovered that there was a FAT32 partition that encodes to EUC-JP, the 2 questions are: Why is the EFI partition encoding to EUC-JP? How do I change the encoding of the EFI partition? EDIT: After checking the question Is UEFI installation still possible when using dd?, I realized that I have installed in my computer to UEFI mode. A: Update: Since I have installed to UEFI mode, I'm using mkfs to make the EFI partition FAT32. Physical activity, fitness and their relationship with body fat distribution in Chinese men. This study aims to investigate the relationships of leisure physical activity (PA) levels and fitness with body fat distribution and anthropometric measures in Chinese men. Subjects were recruited by random cluster sampling from a township of north-west China. Physical activity and fitness were assessed using a questionnaire and the fitness score was calculated using physical fitness test results. Fat mass was measured by bioelectrical impedance analysis. Waist circumferences and hip circumferences were measured using standard techniques. After adjusting for potential confounders, leisure PA levels and fitness were positively related to
